Forecast for Thursday 27 Jan 2022

Weather: Patchy light rain clearing southeastwards around or soon after dawn. Then a mainly dry and bright day with some good spells of sunshine around, especially in the east, and just a few showers, these mainly in the north and falling increasingly as snow above about 900m. Dry with long clear spells in the evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Little chance at first becoming 75% from the north around dawn, improving close to 100% across southern and eastern hills in afternoon.

Low Cloud and visibility: Periods or persistent cloud above 300-450m at first becoming occasional above 600m by dawn, with only small amounts of cloud below the summits across southern and eastern hills in the afternoon. Otherwise visibility several kilometres in early rain but soon becoming very good, falling briefly in any showers.
